BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with ; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turupike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held ; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms ; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly : had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. All masters of vessels are forewarned from barboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. For Sale or Lease,

THE following tracts of land in Charles county, Maryland : one lying on the Potomac, at the mouth of Pomonkey creek, containing three hundred and forty acres, about 16 miles from Alexandria, the larger portion level land, of a stiff soil, well adapted to the cultivation of corn, wheat and tobacco, and equal in fertility to any in the neighborhood. On this farm is one of the most elegant sites for building of all those fine heights which border the Potomac, commanding the most extensive view of the adjacent country, both in Virginia and Maryland, for more than twenty miles up and down the river : located in a genteel neighborhood, it would make an agreeable residence, and from its proximity to market, with the advantage of the best navigation, an extremely profitable farm.—The tenant's houses would accommodate the negroes for its cultivation.

A Tract, about one mile back from the former, containing 334 acres, a large portion in wood, white and red oak, and some chesnut ; the remainder a tenement in tolerable repair, the whole a high stiff soil, similar to the one above mentioned.

A Tract, lying at the mouth of Mattawoman Creek, about 25 miles from Alexandria, the whole first rate flat river land, now completely enclosed.—On this tract is a noted fishery, called Rum Point, at which there has been cleared upwards of two thousand dollars per annum, and where independent of the fish sold on the shore, there might be put up from one to two thousand barrels every season ; besides the profits of the fishery, the advantage of manuring the farm with the offal of the shore, the whole, with a small portion of industry, might be made to produce ten barrels of corn per acre. On the shore, are a dwelling house, houses for holding salt, and curing any quantity of fish, and for the accommodation of hands.

A Tract, lying about 1½ miles from the last mentioned, containing 236 acres, more than 200 of which are in wood, and would cut from 25 to 30 cords per acre, within one mile of the river, where wood has rarely sold for less than five dollars per cord. It will be divided into 50 or 25 acre lots, to suit purchasers.—If preferred, the wood will be sold standing, for so much per acre.

If not disposed of, previous to the first day of Sept. next, the above mentioned arable lands, will be leased out, upon advantageous terms, for five or seven years, at the option of the lessees.

Application to be made to the subscriber, residing near the head of Mattawoman Creek, Charles county, Maryland.

RICH MILK.

"Having taken the stall No. 33, Marsh-Market, nearly opposite to the Horse Market, for a MILK STAND, I will attend there every morning in the week from six till eight o'clock, where I will sell RICH NEW MILK from the country, at 6¼ cents per quart. I intend this establishment to be permanent, both summer and winter.
july 22 SAMUEL AULT."

Mr. Snowden,

The above is taken from a Baltimore paper.—We are of opinion, that such an establishment by some of our country brethren, would answer here, that it would be profitable to them, and convenient to many of our citizens.

All agree our markets (on both sides of the district) are too high.—While butter was selling lately at 25 cents a pound in Baltimore, 12½ in Philadelphia, it was 33 and sometimes 37½ cents here.

For what reason?—Can we afford it better, are we richer, is money more plenty, or have we more business than is done in other places?

We believe the fault is with us, in permitting ourselves to be imposed on by giving such prices.

If, as in other towns, the best firkin butter was constantly sold (from the firkins) in the market, at a fair moderate price, (the same person might sell cheese, bacon, &c. which families might get fresh as they wanted, in quantities to suit them,) it would not only be profitable to the seller, but a convenience to the inhabitants, and the means of keeping down butter in prints, much of which is made of firkin butter, and to pay from 8 to 12½ cents for the beauty of the print, is rather high at present.

The times are very trying, and we think every just plan of real economy ought to be thought of.

MANY HOUSEKEEPERS.

Lexington, (Ky.) July 7.

Mr. Monroe set out yesterday morning, on his way to Washington city, by Harrodsburgh Springs, at which place he will remain a few days for the benefit of his health. We understood he intended to return by way of Cincinnati, Chillicothe, Wheeling, and the National Turnpike, but the state of his health, and a desire to return speedily, have induced him to take the southern route.

CASE OF THE IRRESISTIBLE.

The Federal Court met on Saturday, agreeably to adjournment, to try the cases of alleged piracy; but the witnesses who were expected, not having appeared, the court was adjourned till Monday.

Yesterday, the court again met—Judges MARSHALL and TUCKER on the bench.—The counsel for the prisoners moved for a postponement of the trials till the court in course, upon the ground of the absence of material testimony. After some argument upon this motion, the court decided to adjourn the case till Monday next, to afford an opportunity to the witnesses (in Norfolk and in Baltimore) to attend.

Norfolk, July 21.

FROM OPORTO.

Captain Loud, of the schooner Industry, arrived here yesterday from Oporto, reports, that there was a hot press for seamen and soldiers at the time he sailed, and that every Portuguese subject was seized by order of the government, for an expedition fitting out at Lisbon. Vessels were boarded even off the harbor by the press gangs, and diligent search made for Portuguese subjects.

The Industry was robbed of a considerable part of her provisions, by the pilots that brought her out from Oporto, who being joined by two boat's crews, that came along side as soon as they cleared the harbor, demanded some pork, and being refused, broke open the state room and helped themselves, abusing the captain and crew (who remonstrated upon the impropriety of their conduct) in the vilest language, and threatening to throw them overboard if they resisted them.

The editor of the New-York Evening Post proposes the following pointed interrogatory, which we take the earliest opportunity to insert.

"INSOLVENT BANKS & THEIR DIRECTORS.

"It is believed that there has been no instance of the failure of an important bank where the stockholders have paid the amount of their subscriptions in money according to law. By accepting notes for subscriptions in lieu of money, and without adequate collateral security, the public have been defrauded. I will ask if the creditors of the banks in such cases have it not in their power to make the directors, under whose administration those frauds have been committed, responsible for the debts of the banks? So the courts, it is understood have hitbertoo determined.—If it is not so, banks are legalized swindlers. They may under a false pretence of possessing the capital required by law, pass their notes upon a credulous community, and shield themselves and their private property under the pretended sanctity of a charter. Common sense forbids the belief that a charter can ever be made to cover iniquity."

The question as stated by this able editor, may be thus more compendiously expressed: is it essential that a bank should do its business with or without any capital whatever? The notes of the institution promise to pay the amount of the sum for which they are given, in gold and silver. Suppose that the subscribers who are to furnish the funds from whence this paper is to be redeemed, and who are allowed for their own ease and convenience, to pay them in certain proportions, and at certain intervals, which is all that is meant by the word instalments, disregard this provision of their charter altogether, and pay nothing. The bank, we will suppose, notwithstanding goes into operation, and issues notes signed by the president and cashier, by which they promise to pay the sum specified in hard money, on demand. This institution, however wealthy the individuals who may compose it may be, is fraudulent from the very moment the first note is put into circulation. Of what avail may it be that the individuals who compose the corporation are opulent in their private capacities? Not a cent of their individual property can be touched—it is protected by the charter—the funds of the institution, the gold and silver in the vaults, constitute the only security to which the creditor may resort for the payment of his note. This institution is beyond all doubt therefore fraudulent in its first commencement, for in the case we have stated, there is no fund to which the creditor can resort. But if the first instalment is paid in, and the others neglected, then should the bank commence business, and issue notes far beyond the amount of capital in the vaults, does not this amount to the same palpable fraud: In the absence of hard money, to what has the creditor to resort to for payment? He has no collateral security, not even the personal responsibility of the president and directors, for they are protected by their charter—he has not the personal responsibility of the stockholders, for they are by the same instrument made liable no further than the funds which they contribute. Collateral security for payment by the stockholders not being required, the creditor has nothing but the empty vaults of the bank to which he can resort. But what shall be said when the charter itself, expressly declares that the instalments shall be paid in hard money—what shall be said when this evil is, with a providential and almost prophetic sagacity, guarded against by the express terms of the charter! The legislature say to the directors, all instalments due to the bank must be paid in silver and gold, and you so long as this condition is faithfully fulfilled, shall be exempt both in your persons and beyond what property you invest in such an establishment. The condition is, that all instalments must be paid in gold and silver; this is your security, this your responsibility both as to your persons, and as to your personal property. The directors of the institution with the charter in their hands, say this—We will not compel payment of the instalments in gold and silver—we will not even obey the injunctions of the legislature so far, as to demand collateral security for our contempt, for the provisions guaranteed by the charter we will proceed to issue notes—we will borrrow money at high interest, to meet immediate engagements—we will thus create an artificial rise of stock, and turn the confidence of the public into a matter of profitable speculation. The bubble will burst, but it shall not burst in our hands—we will carry these glittering nothings into market, and they shall vanish in the hands of the purchasers. When this child of heat and air expires and evaporates into its own elements, does it remain for these directors to say that they can plead a violation of the charter, for the irresponsibility secured by the charter—no, if the authors of all this evil are protected both in persons and beyond the amount of property invested by that instrument, when they faithfully comply with its provisions, by the same rule are they made responsible both in their persons and in property beyond what has been invested, when they do not comply with the provisions of the charter.

On a different construction, if we admit that a corporation can be empowered by the legislature to abuse trust and confidence, to violate their charter to any extent, and not to render the authors of all this mischief personally responsible for so doing, such an institution may be called a Bank of insolvent debtors; they are allowed to make promises to pay money, and they are exempted by their charter from paying money; they are allowed to circulate such broken promises far and wide. It is more than an incorporation fram'd for the purpose of insolvency—for unless the authors of all this iniquity, are made personally responsible for such a violation of their charter, they are allowed to speculate and grow rich on their own violated promises, while the nation becomes bankrupt and undone. It affords some consolation to find, that a different system of banking has, at length, taken place; and that new presidents and new directors, are doing all in their power to repair the injury done by their predecessors. —— [Morn. Chron.

From the National Intelligencer.

The distress which pervades every portion of our country is variously accounted for, according to the pursuits of men, and the condition in which they find their own affairs. Few have the magnanimity to acknowledge, if they are wise enough to discover, the root of the evil as it personally respects themselves. When you deal in generals, indeed, when you declaim against over-trading, against luxury and extravagance, and recommend reform, &c. assent is yielded with willingness, which would be indignantly withheld, if you had said to your audience individually, you, sir, have stretched your credit till it cracked; you have revelled to your ruin in expensive indulgencies; or you have lavished in all the ostentation of purse-proud folly the thousands for want of which your creditors are heartbroken. A candid confession of error bespeaks forgiveness, and solicits commisseration. He who sees his error has half attoned it. We do not in that light less admire the frankness displayed in the following article, than we respect the boldness and eloquence with which fact and prophecy are united to enforce a salutary truth, in regard to our national policy, which many of the neighbors of the writer have vehemently opposed. With such advocates on our side, we have not a doubt of the success of the proposition for a change of the mode of disposing of the public lands, which was suggested in the last congress by Mr. King and Mr. Morrow—in themselves a host—and which then received the sanction of a great majority of senate, tho' defeated in the other house by the immediate exertions of general Harrison, and Mr. Jones of Tennessee. On finding these gentlemen so strongly in opposition to the measure, which our conviction so decidedly favored, we had feared that a large majority of the people of the west were against it We are glad to be relieved from that apprehension, by successive indications to the contrary, among which the following is particularly worthy of note:

From the Kentucky Reporter.

There is one cause in the western country, which has operated very powerfully in producing the present state of things, and which must continue to operate in the same way: I mean, speculations in the public lands. Capitalists, both real and fictitious, have engaged very extensively in this business. The banks have conspired with the government to promote it; the former by lending money to the speculators, and the latter by its wretched system of selling the lands on credit. Nearly all the money which is paid, goes over the mountains; the government has but little use for it in the western country. As the greater part still remains to be paid, it follows that this cause, like the balance of trade, which has also brought us much in debt, must continue to operate, with increasing force, as long as the present system continues. If its effect to increase the scarcity of money, and the embarrassments and bankruptcies of the speculators and banks, were its only evils, I should not much deplore its continuance; for I have no compassion, neither for the banks nor the speculators, when disappointed in their schemes of profit and monopoly; but the scarcity of money which it is producing will hasten a salutary change in the business of the country, without causing any evil to the people at large, but a mere temporary dullness of times.

But there is another point of view, in which the continuance of this system of credit and speculation is most deeply to be deplored. It is to my mind the most portentous evil that ever existed in America: it threatens a dissolution of the union. The debts which it has already produced will be a source of almost endless and infinite embarrassments to the general government. Year after year will indulgence be entreated, till our strength will enable us to demand it, in a voice of thunder.—There is no motive which has an influence so general and powerful over the human mind as interest—and hence the maxim that nothing strengthens a government and secures its permanence more effectually than its being largely in debt to numerous and influential members of the community. Reverse the case—shift the debt to the other side—and will not the effect be reversed also? Let numberless individuals of every description, from the most wealthy, intelligent, and influential, down to those who are the reverse, be deeply indebted to the government of the Union, and will they not be in some measure disinclined to support it? Will they not very naturally become disaffected? Let nine-tenths of these persons reside in a particular section of the Union; let that section be pre-eminently well situated for the formation of a separate government; let the existence of the debt depend on the continuance of the Union; let the doctrine be advanced and enforced by every press and every orator in that quarter, that the other states had no just and natural right to the property for which the debt was incurred, while those states insist rigidly on an enforcement of the collection; and where will the bonds be found sufficiently strong to hold us together? They do not exist!—No people are more patriotic and firmly attached to the government of the union than those of the west; the idea of a separation has never been indulged; it is literally abhorred; but their patriotism and fidelity are not invincible. When it becomes their interest to separate, the plausible arguments and motives by which it may be enforced are numerous and powerful, and will render its influence irresistible. Let not, therefore, the general government credit the people of the west to the amount of fifty or a hundred millions of dollars, if it would not foolishly drive them into a declaration of independence: for that will inevitably be the result. The Rubicon is not yet passed; but we now stand upon the shore, and it depends on the measures to be adopted by the next Congress, whether we shall remain a peaceful, happy, and united people, or advance, with a steady and certain pace, to civil war and a dissolution of the Union.

FRANKLIN.

From the Buenos Ayres Gazette, March 31.

The official deputy of this government, near that of Chili, to his excellency the supreme director, 8th instant.

Excellent Sir—I announce to you that I have received notice of the arrival at Valparaiso, of his Britannic Majesty's frigate Andromache, from Callao, whence she sailed 13th ult. Although no official communications have been received from the governor of Valparaiso, yet by a letter I have in hand, from an individual there, and by the reading of others from respectable persons, we are informed, that on the 14th, the commander of the Andromache spoke vice Admiral Lord Cochrane 40 miles from Callao, with a fleet consisting of the ship General San Martin, and the frigate O'Higgins and Lautaro; and that in consequence of the information received of the state of the port, the vice-admiral was determined to attack it on the 17th.

The enemy, according to well attested notices, have laid the frigate Verganza, Esmeralda, Cleopatra, and other ships of war of the Lima squadron, under the guns of the batteries, to defend the port in case of an attack, which they began to fear, as they have heard of the arrival of Ld. Cochrane in Chili.

It appears that the revolutionary spirit progresses in the capital, and it is only the fear of the soldiery which restrains the populace.

The subjoined list comprises all the land forces under the direction of the viceroy Pezuela:—

Letter from Lima to a respectable citizen in Chili. LIMA, Feb. 12th, 1819.

Dear Sir—Day before yesterday, a corporation met, to consider upon a levy of new taxes and free commerce with the English. Every Spanish merchant is a terrible and implacable enemy not only to English commerce, but even to Englishmen; consequently, the proposition of free commerce with England was negatived, notwithstanding every exertion to the contrary of Pezuela, Blanco and Abadia; and it would not be astonishing, should a British ship arrive with goods, if the whole crew were assasinated, so violent is public indignation. The very name of Englishmen is held in odium and loaded with imprecations. They call them Jews, thieves, enemies, &c. &c.;—they hope that king Ferdinand will completely rid them of the smugglers, & ally them to Russia, France and the rest of the allied powers, so that England may be annihilated. They (the English) ought to give up all hope that Spain will ever allow them free trade with her colonies.

Pezuela places great confidence in the services of Renovales, who assures him he is working secretly, to give an unexpected blow in favor of Spain. We open our eyes at that, and should suspect every Spaniard even though he profess to be the enemy of Ferdinand.

Pezuela has remitted millions to England, to insure what he has robbed from Peru, and this is giving the finishing touch to his work. In the above mentioned meeting, the archbishop proposed, by a suggestion of the infamous Carpe, that a contribution for a million of dollars should be levied in the vicinity of the city. His excellency declared, in an oration, that this was the cause of religion; that already, in Chili, there was no longer any religion, neither in Buenos—and that in the former place, the holy sacrament of mass was neglected, and people held it shame to enter the temples; that a republican government was opposed to religion, and even incompatible with it; that the faith of treaties could not be preserved with English heretics, &c. &c. and that the viceroy should divide wealthy persons into three classes; the first should pay a piece 10,000 dollars, the second 5000, and the third 2500, till the levy of a million was completed. Pezuela answered, a million would not be enough; that three or four millions were wanted, and that he left it to four persons to make the classification; after which he would charge himself with obtaining the one million without admitting any excuse by the point of the bayonet.—He then past to the merchants, telling them, that he admitted their proposition, of a continuation of the monthly contribution to impede the trade of the English.—The sum amounts to 117,000 dollars per month. The same day, he exacted from the bankers of the city 59,000 dollars.—He left pending the contributions of 20 per cent. on the funds, lands, and other property; there are to be besides the standing taxes. He left in the same manner the project of despoiling the temples of the massy silver and jewels, (they call themselves catholics who wanted to do this) and of taking from individuals the jewels of women, set with brilliants, pearls, gold, &c. &c. He left too the projects of Don Gaspar Rico, Abadia, and other Spaniards—such as selling crosses, all classes of honors, and other gewgaws, needed by those rogues to gain over to them the money and hearts of stupid royalists.

Thus, these Spanish mandarins are appropriating to themselves the revenues of the state, arising from the enormous sums of our forced contributions, and are remitting them to England, to hold there, at their disposal, the treasures, which, for the love of Ferdinand and the religion of Christ, they have snatched from loyal American royalists and christians—and from those, who, under the grasp of power were obliged to suffer its depredations. These Spaniards, who do not respect the laws of God, and despise the rights of man, are the first to blast as irreligious the independent republicans of America.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

The ship Illinois, Capt. Funk, sailed from Liverpool on the 14th ult. and the editors of the Gazette, thank her owner for London and Liverpool papers to the 13th of June.

It will be seen by our extracts, that there had been numerous arrivals at Liverpool from the U. States, which had a tendency to depress the markets; but the prices were quoted the same as at our former advices.

Confidence had revived in London.—Good bills are readily done at 4½ per cent. Silver and gold are both low, and in little demand; dollars being at 5s11d per oz.

Price of English Stocks—3 per cent. reduced, 69 1-4 7-8, 68 7-8; Consols for account, 69 to 70 1-4; Omnium, 3-4 premium 1-8 1-4 discount.

At London, on the 11th of June, there was still a fluctuation in the funds. Omnium began in the morning at 3-4 per cent. premium, immediately went to par; and at half past 12 was at 1-4 discount. There was a strong impression that it would improve.

News has beeen received from the Cape of Good Hope of the most serious nature. All the inhabitants, capable of bearing arms, were ordered to join the military force.

The King of Prussia has met with a serious accident from a fall, by which he bruised his face, and broke the bridge of his nose.

THE LOAN.

The gentlemen who had prepared lists for the loan, waited by appointment on the first Lord of the Treasury and the Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Governor and Deputy Governor of the Bank were present. The attendance was very numerous.—The Earl of Liverpool stated that the loan is to be for twelve millions. Half of this sum to be taken in Exchequer Bills at 10*l*.

The biddings were as follow:—Rothschild & Co. 62*l*. 18s. 8d.; Reid, Irving & Co. 65*l*. 10s.; Ricardo and Co. 65*l*. 2s. 6d. The biddings being in the three per cent. reduced, Rothschild & Co. of course obtained the loan.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer has brought forward his budget in the House of Commons. He requires three millions of new taxes. Nearly nineteen millions had been repealed, reduced, or suffered to expire since the termination of the war.

People who are troubled with corns, or have tender feet will find their interest in wearing them, not only on account of ease, but if worn without stockings, they have in numerous instances been efficacious in ridding the wearer of corns—gloves, moccasons, suspenders, &c. Lands for Sale.

BY VIRTUE of a power of attorney from William S. Courts to the subscriber, will be sold at public sale.

On WEDNESDAY, the 18th AUGUST, in Port Tobacco, that valuable tract of land whereon John H. Barnes at present resides called lying and being in Charles county Maryland, containing between three and four hundred acres. This land is handsomely situated, lying immediately on Matawoman Creek, at least one third of which is in wood, with a sufficient quantity of marsh land for grazing—that part of the land which is in cultivation is well adapted to the growth of corn, wheat and tobacco, and with proper care would be equal, if not superior to any land in that neighborhood. ALSO,

At the same time and place, will be offered for sale the plantation at present in the occupancy of Francis & Sam'l Wheeler, lying about one mile from the above place, containing about four hundred acres. As it is presumed that persons wishing to purchase will first view the premises, it is thought unnecessary to give a more particular description thereof. The terms of sale will be as follows: viz. possession given on the first day of January next, at which time one third of the purchase money will be required, the remaining two thirds at one and two years the purchaser giving bond with approved security with interest.—Upon the payment of the whole purchase money, a sufficient deed will be executed to the purchaser.

Sale of Valuable Land.

BY virtue of a deed of trust, the subscriber will offer at public sale, at Mr. Hardy's tavern, Piscataway, on Thursday, 5th August, next, several tracts or parcels of land, on Mattawoman Run, about three miles from Piscataway, lying partly in Prince George's county, and partly in Charles county, called and known by the names of Strife, Bonton enlarged, Friendship & Smallwood's meadows, Thompson's Hoop Thickets, and four acres of land adjoining, containing in the whole 420 acres, 1 rood, 18 perch. more or less; which said lands were heretofore conveyed by Thomas Mundell, esq. trustee for the sale of the real estate of N. Blacklock, late of Charles co. deceased, to N. F. Blacklock, late of Alexandria, and by him to the subscriber.

These lands have been, I am told, considerably improved lately by the use of clover and plaster: their susceptibility of still further improvement by these easy means, and their nearness to the Potomac, render them certainly very desirable.

Terms of sale—two thousand dollars to be paid on the day of sale, and the balance on the 1st day of January, 1820, when possession will be given. Upon the payment of the whole of the purchase money, the subscriber will execute a good and sufficient deed, conveying to the purchaser all the right and title of the late N. F. Blacklock, subject to the widow's dower.

A TRACT OF LAND,
In Fairfax county, Va. about six miles from Alexandria, known by the name of Mount Hebron; or so much thereof as will be sufficient to satisfy and pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, with interest, from the 1st April, 1817. A large proportion of this land is in wood. The improvements on the premises, are two dwelling houses, one of them of brick, a small country mill with one pair of stones, a saw mill, and a building, lately occupied as a cotton factory, with an extensive orchard of various kinds of fruit. JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25
